Introduction to Section 1 (1i – Dynamic Cropping System: Practices needed to complete the Agro Ecological Puzzle)

Many of the same flowering plants that support pollinators also support beneficial predatory and parasitic insects.

- Soldier beetle
- Parasitoid wasp
- Ladybird beetle

Biodiversity with minimal soil disturbance drives soil health. Therefore, growing diverse crops will develop a diversity of organisms in the soil. This will result in restoring soil health and crop productivity.